NUMBER 74

Democratic Rallies This Week.

Congressman W. P. Kimball, of Lexington, will make a number of speeches for the cause of Democracy in this county this week. He is a speaker that pleases all, and his many friends in Bourbon will be glad to hear him expound the Democratic doctrines from the stump. You will be well repaid by turning out to hear our eloquent representative to Congress.

Mr. Kimball will be accompanied on his tour of the county by Chairman Dundon, of the Democratic Campaign Committee, and other local speakers, who will follow the Congressman and tell the voters of the importance of a Democratic victory.

The dates so far announced by Chairman Dundon are as follows:

Ruddles Mills, Wednesday, Oct. 23, at 2 p. m.

Shawhan, Wednesday, Oct. 23, 7 p. m.

Little Rock, Thursday, Oct. 24, 2 p. m.

North Middletown, Thursday, Oct. 24, 7 p. m.

Centerville, Saturday, Oct. 26, 7 p. m.

Other dates for Mr. Kimball, covering every magisterial district of the county, will be announced later.

An Important Question.

The question whether or not the farmers and growers will raise a crop next year and pool it the same as in 1906 and 1907, or whether they will discontinue the growing of tobacco for one or more years is uppermost in the minds of all interested. It is to arrive at some definite action that the canvass of Bourbon is now on. Those who will canvass their respective precincts are the Chairmen of each precinct Union with an assistant. So far the list of canvassers as sent into the Secretary John T. Collins is as follows: Millersburg, Messrs. Booth and Moffett; North Middletown, John T. Collins; Clintonville, Thos. H. Clay, Jr.; Hutchison, James H. Thompson; Centerville, Ferguson and Adair; Ruddles Mills, Fisher and Holt; Little Rock, Roger Burris, and Paris, Thos. Henry Clay, Sr.

Attention, Farmers.

It is of the utmost importance that every tobacco grower in Bourbon county attend the meeting at the Court House, in Paris, October 26, at 1 o'clock. It is to be determined at this meeting whether or not a crop will be raised in this county in 1908.

JNO. A. LARUE, Pres't.

DEATHS.

—Miss Amanda Porter, aged 64 years, died at the home of Mr. John Roseberry, in the county, early Saturday morning of cancer. She had been in bad health for some time and only recently underwent an operation at the Good Samaritan hospital, at Lexington.

Miss Porter had made her home in the family of Mr. Roseberry for twenty-five years, and was loved and looked upon as one of them. She was a most estimable Christian woman. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Mary Howe and one brother, Mr. Joe Porter. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the residence, conducted by Elder Carey E. Morgan. Burial in Paris cemetery.

—Bowed with grief and desirous of paying the last tribute of respect to the memory of the Rev. Dr. Robert Neale, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Georgetown, almost every person in that city attended the funeral services held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The Rev. C. T. Thompson of Bethel, assisted by the Rev. Joseph Hogins and the Rev. J. W. Tyler of Midway, officiating at the services.

Dr. Neale died of apoplexy at 8 o'clock Saturday morning. Although he has been in bad health for some time, his death created a great surprise. He had just returned Wednesday night from the Presbyterian Synod at Versailles. There were 200 Odd Fellows who attended his funeral in a body.

Ashland District Educational Association.

The Ashland District Educational Association held a most successful meeting at Frankfort, October 18th and 19th. The program was arranged so as to concentrate the whole work on matters that would benefit the public schools and especially the rural schools. At the evening session Chief Justice E. C. O'Rear was to deliver an educational address but at the last moment a message came that the Judge was sick and Superintendent Geo. W. Chapman, of Paris, was chosen to speak to the large and distinguished audience. Mrs. R. W. Roark, President of Federation of Woman's Clubs, gave a most excellent address.

On Saturday's program were Superintendent M. A. Cassidy, of Lexington, and Superintendents G. W. Chapman and F. L. McChesney, of Paris.

Strong resolutions were adopted favoring the county as the unit for school purposes and a minimum salary of $40 per month for rural teachers.

Following are the officers for the ensuing year: President, Prof. A. M. Duggan, New Liberty; Vice President, J. C. Gordon, Eminence; Secretary, Miss Frances Butler, of the Paris Public Schools, and Treasurer, Miss Ole Masner, of Lexington Public Schools.

Owenton was chosen as the next place of meeting.

The Chance of Our Lives.

A prominent Democratic politician, writing from Washington City, hits the nail squarely on the head when he says: "The idiocy of Democrats all over the country in fighting one another when they should get together and fight the common enemy, reminds me of the definitions Ben Butler once gave the Democratic party. He said it was like a man riding backwards in a railway car—never saw anything until it passed it. From its actions at the present time I am inclined to believe he was about correct. The Democracy never had a better chance to win the Presidency, is the opinion of the best informed men of the party who come here, provided its members can get together and stop their eternal bickering among themselves. With Taft saying in his speeches that he must not try to reform the tariff until after the next election, which is the same old song we have been getting from the Republican party for the past dozen years, with never a move in that direction, and with Taft the most likely candidate of the Republican party, we have the chance of our lives to prove to the people that the Republican party is long on promises and short on performances, if we can unite on some good man."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed. Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists. 75 cents.

MODEL LICENSE LAW.

At a joint session of the Wholesale Liquor Dealers Association and the Kentucky Distillers Association held this week at Louisville among other features was that of a model license law that's been framed which, it was asserted, will enable the saloon to be taken out of politics, and will remedy most of the evils which now attack to it. The chief feature of the proposal is that licenses be made permanent so long as their holders obey the law, and that they be automatically cancelled whenever the law is disobeyed, and conviction follows. Excessive license fees were protested against, as inducing saloon keepers to break the law in order to increase their relative profits, and limit to the number granted was suggested. These features are embodied in a model law which will be introduced in most of the legislatures of the country which meet this winter. Local dealers in each state will take questions up and will put them in the law making bodies.

The Blood is The Life.

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgement are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Foul, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It enriches and purifies the blood thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, livers and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of serous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by inclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 603 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is medicine or known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its little wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels

Crime For American Girls to Wed Titles.

"It is a crime for an American girl to marry a title," according to Mrs. Hettie Green, the world's richest woman.

Her views was expressed in a discussion of the coming wedding of Miss Gladys Vanderbilt.

Mrs. Green said: "I am glad Gladys Vanderbilt is not my daughter. There are thousands of honest young workers to be my girl's husband. Girls who go to Europe for husbands deserve what they get and more. If my son married a foreign woman because the union would bring him a title I would disown him. The mother who will pay $5,000,000 for her daughter should not expect to get a son-in-law of any account for that sum."

A lot of men work themselves sick trying to frame up a scheme to avoid work.

Cut to Kill.

Judge Randolph H. Blain, of the Police Court, at Louisville, issued instructions to the negroes of Grayson street, in that city, that in the future not to merely cut in their fights, but cut to kill. This remarkable statement was made following the disposal of the case against John Blue, colored, of Seventh and Grayson streets, who was presented on the charge of cutting Ada Coleman, also colored, during a fight Saturday night. The case against him was dismissed.

The woman was stabbed in the side, but not seriously injured. Judge Blain said:

"Let me say right here when you negroes of Grayson street get into a cutting scrape, I want you to cut and cut to kill. I believe that cutting to kill will be the best thing for you, and then it will be the means of getting rid of you all."

Diphtheria and Scarlet Fever.

There are a number of cases of diphtheria and scarlet fever in Carlisle and Nicholas county. There have been several deaths. The Nicholas Board of Health and Carlisle city authorities are taking every precaution to prevent the spread of the diseases. The graded school at Carlisle has been closed.

It is frequently easier to be sure you're right than it is to go ahead.

Tobacco Growers to Meet at Shelbyville.

The eyes of the tobacco growing sections of North America are all turned toward Shelbyville, Ky.

The tobacco growing sections of North America are now so well organized that they are able to perfect and maintain a national organization, whose headquarters are at Owensboro, Ky.

Once a year the organization meets at a place previously selected, and last year at Clarksville, Tenn., representatives from the Burley district invited this organization to meet at Shelbyville, Ky., on Oct. 30, 1907. The invitation was accepted. Delegates are coming from every tobacco growing section of the country. The citizens of Shelby county and Shelbyville extend an invitation to every tobacco grower to be on hand on the above date. They have arranged to have good speakers on hand to entertain and enlighten the growers. And in addition to good speakers there will be plenty of good burgoes.

There is a very important question before the White Burley District. A very vital one—cut out the 1908 crop, or not cut it out; which shall it be? How is the best way to answer it? Let every delegate and every visitor help decide this question. If you are in favor of cutting out the crop, wear a white ribbon. If you are opposed to cutting out the crop, wear a blue ribbon. Remember this, last year at this time you were told that 5 cents would buy your tobacco, could not possibly pay you any more. Now they are saying stay out of the pool and we will pay you 20 cents. Why so? The answer is easy—organization. If organization will do this in so short a time, why not stick to the organization and make 20 cents the ruling price for White Burley tobacco?

Let everyone avail himself of this opportunity to demonstrate to the manufacturers that we have gone in to win, and win we will.

Remember, that invitation is extended to all—to everyone.

C. M. HANNA, Chairman.

LIVE STOCK AND CROP NOTES

—H. S. Booth sold to E. F. Spears & Sons 130 bushels of oats for 60 cents per bushel.

—Jesse Booth sold to Mt. Sterling parties thirty barrels of old corn to be delivered in Mt. Sterling at $4 per barrel.

—Thos. McClinton & Sons, bought last week of Nicholas county farmers, eight head of work mules at from $150 to $200 per head.

—About 11,000 acres of land belonging to the Carter County Mining Company and located in Carter county were recently sold for $30,500 to R. S. Penn of Pittsburgh.

—J. O. Evans, of near Little Rock, this county, has rented to Tom Robinson, of Clark county 25 acres of virgin land to be cultivated in tobacco for two years, for $50 per acre.

—It is reported that twin babies, twin colts and twin calves were born on a North Carolina farm the same day recently. While all farmers are enjoying prosperity it does not come to all in such triple doses as this.

—With an expenditure of $10,000 for the big meat packers, banquet at the Auditorium Hotel in Chicago, it appears that there must still be some profit in the meat packing business, despite calamity walls of the packers when the meat inspection bill was on the tapis before Congress last year.

—A farmer near Schuykill Haven, Pa., recently hired a lad to help him do chores. One morning he told him to take some salt and salt a calf out in the pasture. He took a quart of salt and thoroughly rubbed it all over the calf, working it into the hair. A gang of colts in the pasture scented the salt and got after the calf. They licked all the hair off the calf and nearly took the hide off, too.

President Back from the Cane-brakes.

President Roosevelt and his hunting party returned from the canebrakes Sunday and were the guests of Mr. Shields at Stamboul, La. The party killed three bears, six deer, a wild-cat, a wild turkey, twelve squirrels and a possum, all of which the President says, were eaten, except the wildcat. The President spoke in Vicksburg yesterday afternoon and then proceeded to Memphis, where the Louisville and Nashville railroad will take charge of his train and carry it to Nashville, which city he will reach this morning.

Shake in a Bottle.

Now is the time when the doctor gets busy, and the patent medicine manufacturers reap the harvest, unless great care is taken to dress warmly and keep the feet dry. This is the advice of an old eminent authority, who knows that Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble weather is here, and also tells what to do in case of an attack.

Get from any good prescription pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Karrow, three ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Mix by shaking in a bottle and take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime.

Just try this simple home made mixture at the first sign of Rheumatism, or if your back, aches or you feel that the kidneys are not acting just right. This is said to be a splendid kidney regulator, and almost certain remedy for all forms of Rheumatism, which is caused by uric acid in the blood, which the kidneys fail to filter out. Any one can easily prepare this at home and at small cost.

Druggists in this town and vicinity, when shown the prescription, stated that they can either supply these ingredients, or, if our readers prefer, they will compound the mixture for them.

Saturday Night Cutting Scrape.

While Gregg Hipshire and William McIntyre, of Hutchison precinct, accompanied by a young woman from the same neighborhood, were elbowing their way through the crowd on the street that leads to the lot where the Carnival Company has been showing, they were attacked by some unknown party or parties and seriously if not fatally cut in the case of Hipshire. McIntyre had his left arm laid open from the elbow to his wrist. Dr. J. T. Brown dressed the wounds of Hipshire and Dr. Kenney attended to McIntyre's wound. Hipshire is the engineer at the substation of the traction company near Hutchison. It is believed that the attack on the men was made by parties jealous of their attention to the young woman who was with them. No arrests have been made.

Site For Paris Federal Building Selected.

Mr. John M. Brennan received a letter yesterday afternoon from the Government official at Washington stating that the property of Mr. Anthony Thornton, situated on the corner of Eighth and Pleasant Streets, had been decided on for the site of the Government building in this city.

Mr. Brennan, as trustee or agent for Mr. Thornton, offered this property to the Government for $7,500, which is in no way an exorbitant price. This is one of the most beautiful building lots in our city, and is just one square of the Hinton property, which was at first accepted but turned down for some cause.

Many of our citizens were in hopes that the building would be erected on Main street, but we do not think any serious objection can be made to the Thornton property. It is near the center of the city and the surroundings are all that could be asked for.

Now if they will go to work and put the building up without waiting for a half century to roll around, everybody will be satisfied.

Prominent Democrats Pass Thru

At the depot of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, Monday, were a number of distinguished Democrats. Senator Thos. H. Payne, accompanied by Hon. Green R. Keller, of Louisville, who had been in Frankfort, were enroute to Mt. Olivet, where the Senator was to speak at a speech in the afternoon. Col. John K. Hendrick was enroute to Richmond where he spoke in the afternoon, while Governor Beckham was going to Mt. Sterling for a speech.

Monday was county court day at all the above places where each of the speakers were greeted with large crowds. Hon. A. S. Thompson and his brother, James H. Thompson, Chairman of the Democratic County Committee, met the distinguished party. With the coming of William J. Bryan, who again enters the State next week for a whirlwind campaign that will embrace Central Kentucky, the outlook for the largest Democratic vote ever polled in this section of the State is very encouraging.

that a Republican president has admitted the correctness of our position. Take in the first place the enforcement of the law against the trusts. What a time we have had convincing some of the people that the trusts are an evil. I remember that in our fight on this subject there were lots of Republicans who were deluded with the idea that about all the good that this country enjoys has come in some way mysteriously from the trusts, and whenever we said anything in regard to the Standard Oil trust there was always some Republican who would stand on the street corners and tell us that it was the Standard Oil trust that had cheapened the price of oil. But there is not a Republican now to make that argument, even in a back alley.

There were many who thought that these great trusts were benevolent institutions, and they were praising them as if all blessings flowed from them; but, my friends, in the last few years they have come to believe, as Democrats have long insisted, that the penitentiary is not too good a place for the trust magnate who conspires against the welfare of 80,000,000 people, and this sentiment has grown so strong that not only does the president say that the enforcement of the criminal law would be a good thing, but as an illustration of the vast growth of the tremendous increase of this sentiment, even Secretary Taft—even Secretary Taft (laughter)—has reached the point where he now admits that it might be a good thing to put one or two trust magnates in the penitentiary. While they will admit that it might be good to put one or two in, the rest of the people will go far enough to believe that all of them should be put in. So when the president takes an advanced position on the trust question, he steps on Democratic ground.

The people praise him for what he has done in the matter of railroad regulation, but where did he get his inspiration? In a Republican platform? You read in vain the Republican national platform to find it there, and if you look in that hated and despised Chicago platform, you will find the authority for railroad regulation that the president has at last accepted. If you look in the platform of 1900 written at Kansas City, you will find it again, and even at St. Louis, while we quarreled over a good many questions, we wrote that plank into that platform, and it was our third national platform that demanded this reform; and when the president stepped out and advocated this, he had to step onto Democratic ground. But let no Republican find fault with the president because he stands on Democratic ground on some of these questions, for he could not go before you without entrenching on Democratic ground, for we pre-empted all the ground in front several years ago.

Some of the Democrats have even represented the manner in which the president has endorsed some Democratic ideas, but I do not resent it, for our ideas were presented to the public for adoption and our ideas are good enough to be adopted not only by Democrats, but by Republicans, and my regret is not that the president has adopted some of them, but my regret is that he has not adopted more, and that he has not carried the conclusions that he has adopted further. When I think of the president and some of the Democratic things he has done, I am reminded of something said by Peter Cartwright. A man asked him if he was sanctified, and he said, 'Yes, in spots,' and so, my friends, when they ask me about the president, whether he is Democratic or not, I say, 'Yes, in spots,' but that the spots are not large enough and not numerous enough.

Take the subject of the income tax, and the president has endorsed our position. I can remember a few years ago when the income tax was denounced by Republicans and denounced most bitterly, and I am glad to speak of that income tax where I come in contact with Mr. Montgomery, who was on the ways and means committee and who was on the sub-committee that helped to draft that income tax. I happened to be on that sub-committee with him, and I look back to my part in that income tax with as much pride as I take in any act in my public career, and I rejoice that now some twelve years after the Democratic party fought for it, a Republican president comes up and admits that it is a good thing and we ought to have it in this country, and even Secretary Taft—even Secretary Taft—admits that it is a good thing, only, yielding to his postponing habit of mind, he thinks we ought not to have it right away.

So you take the question of arbitration between capital and labor—a position taken by the Democrats in 1896, 1900 and 1904—and the president endorses that position today.

On four great propositions he has accepted Democratic doctrine, and yet on some questions has not only not accepted Democratic doctrine, but has advanced very un-Democratic doctrine. He has not yet agreed with us as to the importance of tariff reform, although Secretary Taft—yes, even Secretary Taft—has made an argument against a high tariff, and would have tariff reform after a while.

But, my friends, the president has endorsed a ship subsidy, and when he endorsed a thing not Democratic, he found forty-one Republicans in the lower house who refused to vote with him and voted with the Democrats against a ship subsidy. He endorsed an asset currency, and yet the Republicans in congress were afraid to present it even to the lower house, but agreed with the Democrats against present it as a bill and act upon it in the house of representatives.

Then the president asserted the doctrine that a treaty can override the laws of a state in regard to their school system. If I had gone to California and made an argument in defense of the right of the state to control its affairs, if I had gone there two years ago, I could not have made the people to understand the importance of the question, but the moment the right of these people to control their school system was attacked, then all the Republicans of California became Democrats on the subject of school control, and now the president has proposed the national incorporation of railroads and other great corporations; and, my friends, as long as the American people understand that the purpose of the national incorporations is to take out of the hands of the people of the state the control of their state affairs, and carry that control to Washington, and place it down there where it is almost impossible to reach your representatives, there will be a revulsion of feeling against that doctrine as against the doctrine announced in California, and you will find the American people, Republican as well as Democrats, lining up in behalf of the doctrine set forth in the constitution, that while congress is supreme in the affairs of interstate commerce, the state is supreme in the control of the things that concern its own people and its own people alone.

So that where the president has been Democratic he has gained popularity, and where he has been un-Democratic he has lost popularity, and thus by his good deeds and by his bad ones he has proven the strength of Democratic ideas in this country.

If any of you think that the Republicans ever won a victory in the last twelve years, I want to remind you that after twelve years of complete power, after rather eleven, during which they have had the president, senate and the house, they have never been able to impress upon this country one single Republican idea. There is not one Republican doctrine today that is as strong as it was eleven years ago. That is the result of eleven years of Republican supremacy in the United States, and the Democratic party out of power has been so strong that it can coerce a Republican president into the acceptance of Democratic ideas as a basis of his popularity.

Now, my friend, if this is true, is it not a bad time for the Democrats of Kentucky to become Republicans? Is this not the time when their faith in Democracy should be strengthened rather than weakened? Is this not the time when their hope should be increased rather than diminished? Is this not the time when they should go forth with a larger zeal rather than with indifference?

I am glad to have this chance to look into the faces of those who in the campaigns through which I have passed have been faithful to the platform on which I stood; and I come here to ask you to be as enthusiastic in your efforts this fall as you were when I was your standard bearer. If there is in this audience one who has been attached to me, let me beg him to transfer to Judge Hager and those on the ticket with him, and to Governor Beckham, the full measure of that attachment. My friends, I shall not spend time telling you what splendid men these candidates are. I am satisfied that they deserve your support, and that they will ornament the positions to which they aspire. I shall not dwell upon matters of state importance, for I cannot know these things as well as your own speakers. All that I can do is to come from a distant state to bear testimony in your presence to the national character of your campaign. If any Democrat here thinks it concerns but this state whether one or another is elected governor, let me say to him that the influence of your election will reach to the very borders of the land; for as we approach a national campaign, all the things that precede give indication as to the result of that campaign, and as the Democrats rejoiced at the election in Oklahoma because it indicated a trend of public sentiment toward Democracy, so a great victory for our state ticket in Kentucky will gladden the hearts of millions of Democrats, for it will presage a victory in Kentucky for Democracy next year; and if you Democrats who marched to the polls in 1896 and gave me a majority, if today your love of Democracy is as warm as it was then, make the majority larger for Hager and his ticket this fall.

And, my friends, the election for senator has a double significance. A victory for Democracy in your state legislature, like a victory for your state ticket, would be an inspiration to Democrats elsewhere, but it would be more than that. It would send to the United States senate a Democrat, and we need Democrats there. We only need Democrats there, but we cannot afford to lose any of the Democrats that we have.

Today two Democrats represented Kentucky in the United States senate. If the Republicans carried this state, they would send a Republican as successor to Senator McCreary, and, my friends, if a Republican went there in the place of that Democrat, then your state, instead of presenting two votes in favor of reform, would have a Republican senator nullifying the your state would be a cipher on these questions. The senate is today the weak point. We need reform, but no remedial legislation of a national character is possible until the measure passes the senate as well as the house. You might have a Democratic president and a Democratic house of representatives anxious to relieve the burdens upon the people, and the president may be ready to sign the bill, but if the senate stands between them relief is impossible; and, my friends, I beg you to so cast your votes as to insure a Democratic legislature, for that will insure the election of Governor Beckham to the United States senate.

Now, I have given you my reason for being here. I am interested in national politics. I have been for many years, and shall be until I die. My great desire is to see these reforms, for which I am company with other Democrats have been fighting, realized, for I believe they will bring blessings untold to the American people, and I come from a distant state to give you what assistance I can, because I am interested in these questions. Am I more interested than you? Have I any more reason than you Democrats? I know of no reason that I have to make me anxious for reform that ought not to make you anxious for reform, too. I am as well situated as you are. I can stand Republican legislation as well as you can. I can live under bad government as well as you can live. I can provide for my children no matter what party is in power, and I can leave them all that is good for them to have left to them. I have no favors to ask of anyone, but my friends, I want to leave my children something better than money. Money may take the wings of the morning and fly away. I want to leave them something more enduring than personal property or real estate. I want to leave them a government that will protect them in the enjoyment of life and liberty and in the pursuit of happiness. That is the richest legacy that father can leave the child.

But there is no more reason why I should leave my children good government than that you should leave your children good government; and there is no more reason why I should fight for Democracy than there is that you should fight for Democracy.

My interest is not due to the fact that I have been a candidate for high office. My interest is not due to the fact that I may be a candidate for high office in the future, for office is but an incident of my life, and there are things which concern me more. I have never wanted office merely to hold office, for I have long since learned that my place in history will not be determined by what people do for me, but by what I can do for my people.

I have said this much because I wanted to impress upon your minds that you ought to be as much interested as I am in this fight, and now, Democrats, if I will come from Nebraska at my own expense to help you win a victory in Kentucky for Democracy, can't you go from your homes to your polls on election day and do your part toward winning that victory? What excuse can you give your conscience or your neighbors if on election day you remain away from the polls?

What excuse can you give to your conscience or your country if by any neglect of yours these principles which you hold dear are defeated, and simply through your failure to do what you can? Is it not worth your while to vote yourselves, and then do what you can to get your neighbors to join with you to make your majority larger now than ever before?

I understand that you have so big a majority down here that when you get up in the morning and then hear that the country has gone Republican you cannot understand how any part of the country could go Republican, as there are so many Democrats in this county; but, my friends, strange as it may seem, there are many people in many parts of this country, and people who look much like you who have not the political information and the political intelligence that you show on election day, and these people by a strange perverseness of fate vote the Republican ticket. And I happen to live in one of those communities where a majority of the people do not seem to understand public questions; and whenever there is a campaign on hand we generally have a meeting in the city of Lincoln, and I make a speech to my Republican neighbors and try to seize them as brands from the burning and bring them within the fold of the elect, and last fall when the time came for that meeting I announced that my subject would be 'Dreams.' We had Senator Beveridge there, and he had made a Republican speech, and in that speech he told them that while I was a very nice man, and while he thought a great deal of me, that I was not a doer of things, but just a dreamer, and that while I dreamed, the president was doing things; and it was printed in the paper, and I read it, but I did not think much of it; I didn't pay much attention to it, but in a few days I read in the paper that Governor Cummings of Iowa had made a speech and called me a dreamer. When I saw that a second one had called me a dreamer I sat up and took notice, and in a few days I read that Governor Hanly had called me a dreamer—three of them. It began to look serious, and then I read that Speaker Cannon had called me a dreamer—four of them, and I knew that my against four great men, and so instead of denying it I decided to admit it and justify it; and I began to read up on the subject of dreams. I thought I would post myself and find out what I really was, or whether it was a disgraceful thing or not; and I found to my surprise that the subject of dreams was really quite a subject, after all, and that there had been dreamers before. I went to the Bible, where I always go when I am in trouble. I have never found a book with so much truth in it as the Bible contains, and I don't know of any book where truth is more beautifully expressed and I looked in the Bible to see if I could find anything about the dreamer; and I found that there were dreamers in the Bible, and that the most prominent one was Joseph and because Joseph's brothers called him a dreamer, and they did not like his dreams, they hated him. They plotted to kill him, and when he was sent out by his father to his brethren who had their flocks in Dothan, they said, "Here comes the dreamer; let us put him away and be done with him." But finally they decided that instead of killing him they would just put him down in a pit, and let the father believe that he had been killed in some way by a wild beast. Then some merchants came along, and they took Joseph out of the pit and sold him, and sent him down into Egypt, and then they congratulated themselves and said, "Now we are rid of the dreamer," and things went along for awhile until they had almost forgotten Joseph, and then there came a famine and they had to go down into Egypt and buy corn, and when they got to Egypt there they found the dreamer, and he had the corn; and so, my friends, I made up my mind it was not so bad to be a dreamer provided you have the corn, and in that speech I proceeded to show the Republicans how the Democratic party had been dreaming and how they had the corn and were prepared to satisfy all political needs.

The more I thought on this subject the less willing I was to class myself with the dreamers, for it was too high and honored for me. The dreamer, why he is a great man. John Boyle O'Reilly says that the dreamer lives forever, while the toiler dies in a day.

As I went from nation to nation in traveling through Europe I found that everywhere the ideas of Jefferson had been conveyed, and that everywhere they were planted and were growing. When I left home I was proud of the Democratic party. I boasted that I belonged to a party that was essentially old, but when I got back from my trip around the world I was prouder still, for this old Democratic party that Jefferson founded is not only a century old, but it is 25,000 miles wide.

I am proud of Jefferson's work. Of all the constructive statesmen in the world's history, he is the greatest, and, my friends, when the names that Republicans love to quote—when these names are forgotten, little children will lisp the name of Jefferson, and freemen will stand up and praise the one who taught them to know a freeman's rights and fight for them.

And now, Democrats, let me ask you a question: If a Republican president can win popularity by spasmodically and sporadically doing something Democratic, what would be the popularity of a Democratic president who was consistently and persistently Democratic all an questions? Isn't this a bad time for a Democrat to become discouraged? Never since I have known politics have we had so much to encourage us.

In this state you have by organization among the farmers, been able to protect yourselves to some extent from the greed of one great monopoly, but instead of feeling satisfied at the great success that has come to your organization, I bid you have some feeling for those who are not so situated that they can protect themselves as you have been able to protect yourselves. Have you not learned something of what a monopoly is, and are you not ready now to join with us to lay the ax at the root of the tree, and instead of saying as Secretary Taft said, that there are good trusts and bad trusts, are you not ready to say with us that God never made a man good enough to stand at the head of a private monopoly and control the price of what people had to use?

It is not time that we seriously take up this question and put the American government back upon its old foundation, and make it again a government of the people, by the people and for the people? Are you not ready to enlist in this contest? I have been fighting for this principle now seventeen years, and I ask for nothing better than I might continue this fight until God calls me from my earthly labors. Are you willing to enlist, not for three months, or six months or a year—are you willing to enlist for this war until justice shall triumph and our nation shall be relieved?

While next year the fight will be on a larger field and the stakes will be greater, now in this fight you are on the skirmish line, and if you will but give us a splendid victory for Hager and his associates, we shall rejoice with you; and if you will give us a legislature that elects Beckham, our rejoicing will be doubly great; and I hope that when the polls are closed and the vote is counted you will have such a victory in Kentucky that we can hear your shouts all the way to Nebraska, and then when we hear them we will be so glad that we will shout so loud that you can hear them in Kentucky.

DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

A PURE, healthful, grape cream of tartar powder, the only kind that can be used without impairing the healthfulness of the food. Makes the biscuit, cake and pastry more digestible and wholesome. Absolutely free from alum and phosphate of lime.

Chemical analyses show the low priced powders made of alum to contain large quantities of sulphuric acid, and that a portion of the alum from alum baking powders remains unchanged in the food! You cannot afford to take alum and sulphuric acids into your stomach.

Mr. J. O. A. Poe, who has had charge of the Bourbon Hotel since January, 1907, gave up same Friday, and he, with his family, moved to Mt. Olivet, Saturday, where they will make their future home. They made many friends while here, who regret to see them leave. Mr. Poe is an agreeable gentleman and built up a considerable trade for the house. President C. C. Fisher went to work at once and put the building in order for a part of the school.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Gamble, of San Francisco, Cal., arrived Friday to make their future home with us. It will be remembered that Mr. Gamble and family moved from here a few years ago, to California to educate two of their sons in the Stanford and Leland University. These sons are now out of school, the youngest son of the family is a student at M. M. I. The family will reside in their beautiful country home on the Maysville pike three miles south of town. We are glad to have them back and give them a hearty welcome to their old Kentucky home.

Mr. C. W. Corrington attended the funeral of his uncle, Mr. Wm. McClelland, at Maysville Sunday afternoon. Mr. McClelland had been critically ill for several days, died Saturday morning. He is a native of this community and much of his life was spent here. He leaves two sisters, Mrs. Della Miller, of Atlanta, Ga., who was with him at the time of his death and Mrs. Jane Miller, of St. Louis, Mo., who is critically ill, and whose death is expected daily. It will be remembered that Mrs. Matte Piper, of Cincinnati, who was buried here a few weeks ago, was also a sister. He is survived by his wife and leaves a handsome estate.

Another mass meeting was held at the Opera House Saturday afternoon in the interest of the M. F. C. The meeting was largely attended and enthusiastic. Judge Harmon Stitt and Judge Denis Dundon, of Paris, were again present and urged upon the people the necessity of liberality and self-denial. More than $3,000 were subscribed during the meeting, many who had previously given doubling their subscriptions. Mr. E. P. Gamble, who for the past five years has been residing in California, and had just returned the evening before, to live among us again, subscribed $1,000. Mr. Gamble, though not a native of Kentucky, nor never having seen Millersburg until after he was a man with a family, has been keenly alive to every interest in our little town and community ever since he purchased his farm built his beautiful home three miles South of town. He is a thorough business man, being connected with the Proctor & Gamble firm of Cincinnati, extensive manufacturers of soap. He located here on account of his health, educated two of his sons at M. M. I. He has shown a great interest in every public enterprise that was for the betterment of the community, as is for many acts of charity that the world knows nothing of. He is strong and firm in his convictions, being a man of few words, his modesty almost amounting to shyness at all times, shrinking from publicity. His goal is highly appreciated by our people.

Are Passing Away.

For over twenty years after the close of the Civil War the pension roll of the old soldiers increased annually millions of dollars. Then came the Spanish-American War which added a good many names to the list. The list is now on the decrease at the rate of several millions annually. The last fiscal year showed a decrease of $6,000,000 and the amount of the appropriation for pensions for the present year is $22,000,000, less than for 1893, when it reached the top notch. In ten years more the present pension roll will be cut in half. The vast majority of the pensioners are old men. Very few are under sixty years old. The majority of them are seventy or over and the death rate among them is increasing wonderfully. In ten years the G. A. R. will not be able to have a parade, as the remnant of the old soldiers will be too infirm to march. In twenty years there will only be a few lonely survivors of that great struggle that shook the world.

Forced on Him.

A Western Kentucky exchange tells of a wedding feast where the bridegroom was called upon, as usual, to respond to the given toast, in spite of the fact that he had previously pleaded to be excused. Blushing to the roots of his hair he rose to his feet. He intended to imply that he was unprepared for speech making, but he unfortunately placed his hand upon the bride's shoulder and looked down at her as he stammered out his opening and concluding words: "This er thing has been unexpectedly forced upon me."

A Novel Question.

An interesting legal point has been raised in the settlement of a Mercer county estate. An old gentleman died, and before passing away it was agreed between himself and his mourning spouse that after his demise a monument should be erected at his grave and that it should also bear her name in token of her loyalty until death to him. After the funeral the weeping widow insisted upon the administrator forthwith having the tombstone erected, bearing upon one side the husband's name and the accompanying record of his birth and death, and upon the other side her birth, with the date of her death to be filled in when she should be laid beside her departed liege lord. It was done. But about seven weeks after the funeral the widow found consolation in another husband. Now the administrator and some of the heirs are insisting that the deceased husband's estate should pay for only one-half of the tombstone, repudiating the erstwhile widow's half, and a warm fight is being waged over the point. The decision of the court will be awaited with interest.—Harrisburg Democrat.

"Pneumonia's Deadly Work"
had so seriously affected my right lung, writes Mrs. Fannie Connor, of Rural Route 1, Georgetown, Tenn., "that I coughed continuously night and day and the neighbors predicted consumption—seemed inevitable, until my husband brought home a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, which in my case proved to be the only real cough cure and restorer of weak, sore lungs." When all other remedies utterly fail, you may still win in the battle against lung and throat troubles with New Discovery, the real cure. Guaranteed by Dr. Bredorfer, the druggist. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Oct.

The poor consumptive should not be the victim of experiment, as he often is, but the moment the dread disease manifests its presence he should be given Boeche's German Syrup—a pure, non-alcoholic medicine that is made specially for the cure of consumption, and has a worldwide fame as a certain remedy for catarrh, colds, coughs, croup, sore throat and all bronchial affections in old and young. It is sold in all civilized countries, and has been famous as a consumption cure for almost half a century.

50—Shorthorns—50

Renick Rose of Sharons,
Young Marys and Wildeyes.Great Public Sale October 30, Fair Grounds, Paris, Ky.
.. 50 Head Superb Shorthorns ..

Joseph M. Hall, Paris, Ky., and Abram Renick, Winchester, Ky., will sell 50 head of the kind of Shorthorns that would help to make any country or breeder famous. Noted show animals in the offering, all are sound in every respect. They will be sold with an absolute guarantee.

Every female will either have a calf at foot or be safe in calf to such noted bulls as Signet 248501 [the junior champion bull at Chicago in 1906], Royal Amaranth 171377 and Royal Sharon 224185.

To get the kind of cattle at the prices that doubtless will prevail at this sale would justify a breeder in traveling a thousand miles. Send for a catalogue.

An easy way to make money is to buy stocks when they are low and sell them when they are high.

It is sometimes difficult to distinguish between a sympathetic person and a curious one.

Many a man has lost his mental balance by attempting to entertain two or more ideas at the same time.

While you may not be able to lead a man to water, you seldom have to ask him twice to face the bartender.

Bryan Makes Party 10,000 Votes.

"William Jennings Bryan's tour through Western Kentucky in behalf of Judge Hager and the Democratic candidate strengthened the ticket not less than 10,000 votes," said C. W. Bransford, a prominent banker and politician of Owensboro, at the Seelbach in Louisville Saturday. "Mr. Bryan made the most convincing speech I ever heard and hundreds of Democrats, who were not taking the proper interest in the campaign, became enthusiastic workers after hearing him. This I know is true of Owensboro and Daviess county, where dissatisfaction existed."

Mr. Bransford is one of the leading business men and bankers of Owensboro. Mr. Bransford has always been prominently mentioned as a candidate for Congress in the Second district. He enjoyed the distinction of being one of the few national bank presidents who supported Mr. Bryan in 1896. At that time Mr. Bransford made speeches all over Kentucky for the Democratic ticket. He was a delegate from the State-at-large to the Democratic National Convention held at Kansas City in 1900, which nominated Bryan for President.

At Least We Are Honest.

The Woman's National Daily, published at St. Louis, says: "In spite of the stories of feuds and night riders and moonshine whisky and other things that do not usually indicate prosperity and peace, the great State of Kentucky is reported out of debt and with a statehouse just completed costing $1,200,000. Striking contrast this with Pennsylvania and some other States about which the world does not hear tales of the Kentucky character. We are beginning to believe that some of the stories from the dark and bloody ground are not entirely true to history. It seems that the people of Kentucky are honest as a rule, pay their bills and don't steal their own money."

After telling a little white lie twice it begins to turn black.

It is so much easier for a child to inherit red hair than brains.

—At the depth of ninety-five feet the Hon. J. Hal Woodford struck a vein of water on his farm that is as cold as ice and clear as a crystal. It is conceded to be the strongest and purest vein of water in the county.

—While John Hudnell and John Wells were cutting corn on J. Hal Woodford's farm a few days ago they discovered a swarm of bees in the forks of a tree. They called to their assistance Mr. John Willis, the noted bee man of this section, who saved the bees and Hudnell and Wells secured thirty pounds of honey.

Railroad Law.

In affirming a verdict of a Madison county jury the Court of Appeals says: "The action was for damages on alleged negligence of appellee in not erecting sufficient fencing and cattle guards. This court construes the law and holds that a railroad company has erected proper fencing and cattle guards on one half the property and railroad company cannot be held liable for damages where the property owner has not complied with the law."
